

Merci Miglino: Global Training Director at International Coach Academy

Merci Miglino is the Global Training Director for International Coach Academy. She is a Master Certified Coach (MCC) with the International Coach Federation (ICF).

She teaches the core competencies of the coaching process to students in over 90 countries. Merci has international training experience on topics such as Engagement, Leadership, Emotional Intelligence, and Coaching tools and techniques.

This eclectic background, natural curiosity, and passion for supporting the development and self-mastery of others has given Merci an incredible ability to build sustainable leadership and learning communities with international coaching consulting firms including Blanchard Coaching and CoachA. Her clients include Time Warner Cable, Flight Centre, Hewlett Packard, the US Department of Labour, Federal Environmental Protection Agency, and Colgate College.

An inspired humourist, Merci infuses fun into her training - from creating online training platforms and materials, to face-to-face training and facilitation, and executive and team Coaching.
